DETAILED ACTION

Because of applicant's amendments to the claims, the 112, paragraph II rejection of the prior office action has been withdrawn and in view of his arguments the 112, paragraph I rejections are also withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EPO 0,492,672-A2, hereinafter '672. As shown in his drawings, '672 teaches a filter housing including a filter base (231 and 233 are considered to be the filter base). The combination component includes a plate, an arched valve body (on the upstream side), a spring, a support dome (the ringed member extending into the center of the filter insert 201) as well as the wall portions connected to the plate. The valve seat is included as part of the filter base [as in claims 1-2]. Portions axially extending from the plate are for connecting to the filter elements [as in claim 5].

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

4. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over '627 in view of GB 2,279,725, hereinafter '725. '725 teaches a tubular valve body 24 in a combination component. It is considered that it would have been obvious to one ordinarily skilled in the art at the time of the invention to have the tubular valve body of '725 as part of the combination component of '627, (e.g. to control flow between the inlet and outlet chambers) since '725 teaches the benefit of a creating a bypass flow to prevent damage to the filter.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 2-23-2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant has argued that the components of the '627 reference indicated by the examiner to be the filter base, support dome and combination component are not the same as those of his invention. However, the examiner contends that the references have been applied to the same degree of specificity as that claimed by the applicant. For example, the claims do not require the support dome to extend from a first end to a second end of the filter insert, such that the ringed member of '627 supporting the filter at a first end is sufficient meet the "support dome" limitation. As indicated in the action, the base is considered to include the elements indicated by the leaders of "231" and "233", wherein "233" is clearly the seat for the inlet valve. The combination component is considered to include the plate that contacts the valve spring and the element indicated by the leader of "209".

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
